Key Risks

- High Risk and Volatility: The value of a venture capital trust depends on the performance of the underlying assets. It can take several years for the value or quality of the businesses of smaller companies to be fully reflected in their market values, which are often materially affected by general market sentiment.
- Illiquidity of Investments: The Company's investments may be difficult and take time to realise. There is also likely to be an illiquid market in the Venture Shares, and investors may find it challenging to sell their shares at a price reflecting the underlying NAV.
- Dependence on Tax Reliefs: The availability of VCT tax reliefs depends on maintaining VCT qualifying status. Changes to legislation could adversely impact investor returns.
- Economic and Market Sensitivity: The success or failure of the VCT's investments in small companies depends on macroeconomic factors. Conditions like recessions or inflation can severely impact the performance of portfolio companies and the appetite of investors.
- Regulatory Risks: The Finance Act 2018 introduced a 'risk-to-capital' condition for qualifying investments, focusing VCTs on riskier, earlier-stage businesses. Any breach of these rules could result in a loss of VCT status and associated tax reliefs.
- Sector and Portfolio Risks: Although the VCT aims for diversification, investments are concentrated in specific sectors, such as healthcare, climate, and hospitality, which may amplify risks associated with sector-specific downturns or regulatory changes.

Please note that this is a summary of the key risks and potential investors should refer to pages 12-14 of the Prospectus for full details.

Tax Relief

- Income Tax Relief: Investors can claim 20% income tax relief on investments up to £200,000 per tax year, provided shares are held for a minimum of five years. This relief is only available against income tax liability for the year in which shares are issued.
- Capital Gains Tax Exemption: Gains realised on the disposal of VCT shares are exempt from capital gains tax, provided the shares were held within the £200,000 maximum qualifying limit per tax year.
- Tax-Free Dividends: Dividends received on VCT shares are tax-free, offering an additional benefit for investors seeking income.
- No Loss Relief: Losses on the disposal of VCT shares do not qualify for relief against income or capital gains.
- Tax Legislation: The availability of these tax reliefs depends on the Company maintaining its qualifying status as a VCT and may be impacted by changes in tax rules. Investors should consider their personal circumstances and consult with a tax adviser.

Client Suitability

- High-Risk Tolerance: Suitable for investors who understand the high-risk nature of early-stage investments in unquoted companies and are willing to accept the potential for loss of capital
- Tax Mitigation and Growth-Oriented Investors: Ideal for individuals seeking to benefit from 20% income tax relief, tax-free dividends, and capital gains tax exemption while pursuing long-term growth opportunities
- Long-Term Commitment: Designed for investors prepared to commit their capital for a minimum of five years to retain tax relief benefits, with an understanding of the illiquid nature of the investments
- Sophisticated and Experienced Investors: Suitable for high net worth or sophisticated investors who have a diversified portfolio and are comfortable with high-risk investments

Conclusion

Having launched their first VCT in 2004/05, Triple Point have a long track record of successfully raising capital via VCTs, as well as executing timely deployment across multiple sectors and exiting those VCTs for investors.

The Venture VCT has now grown to a maturity that offers investors access to a portfolio of over 50 ambitious early-stage companies. Spread across 20 different sectors a VCT investment gains instant access to a diversified portfolio of companies ranging in size and stage of growth.

Triple Point have identified a clear focus for the VCT to invest in business-to-business (B2B) companies over those that directly target consumers (B2C). This is based on research supporting the returns from successful exits provided by B2B businesses, with those becoming acquisition targets at almost double the rate of B2C (Beauhurst Report – Exits in the UK 2011-2021).

The Ventures team is led by Seb Wallace who has a notable passion and energy for working with founders and the VC space, and the team can rely on the support of three layers of expert oversight including the Investment and Advisory Committees, with all activities overseen by the VCT Board including independent and non-executive directors.

The companies in which they invest are typically those that provide innovative solutions to real-world corporate challenges. The in-depth research undertaken by Triple Point leads them to be able to consider companies that have a strong team with deep market knowledge of their sector, offering products that are solving a need for business users, and operate within a significant and diverse market that have the ability to become billion-pound companies.

The timing of investment is key to the Investment team at Triple Point, getting involved at the early stages of a company's journey, at pre-seed or seed stage where they see the best potential returns begin.

As the portfolio has matured, the VCT will look to add new companies each year and make follow-on investments in those companies that are doing well and successfully hitting growth milestones. In doing so the VCT will own a good mix of businesses at different stages of their lifecycle. The VCT now offers far greater diversification in terms of funding stages providing a more balanced combination of early growth potential and company maturity.

The diversification element is key to this strategy and now they have reached a maturity since the inception in 2018 with the Venture VCT, new investors can consider gaining access at a time where diversification has been achieved, dividends have become more regular and exits may give rise to special dividends in the years ahead.

Investments in unquoted companies are high risk and may be volatile, with a significant chance of failure. Although VCT shares are listed, they can be difficult to sell and should be regarded as a long-term investment, typically held for at least five years. Tax advantages depend on individual circumstances and may change, and there is no guarantee a VCT will retain its qualifying status.
